bolishing compulsory pilotage for vessels engaged in the coastwise trade.

I vote will be taken on Saturday, Feb. oth. The pilots, many of them from Norolk, were present at the hearing in orce. They profess confidence as to their chility to defeat the bill.

Secretary Taft has forwarded to the peaker of the House a recommendation that the sum of $5.000 be appropriated for the construction of an elevator in the hearing in the hearing in the peaker of the House a recommendation that the sum of $5.000 he appropriated for the construction of an elevator in the hearing in the Soldiers' Home at Hampton. The recommendation is made by General M. T. McMahon, president of the Beard of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteers.

E. J. Callahan, representing the Norfolk-Washington Steambeat Company, was here to-day and saw Representative May mard relative to arrangements for the transportation of the members of the House Committee on Industrial Arts and Expositions, who will go to Norfolk Sunday as the guests of the second district representative for the purpose of going over the ground which is to be the site of the exposition.

Representative Flood introduced a bill to-day to provide for the purchase of the McLean property and adjacent land at Apromistics, Va. and to erect tablets there in commemoration of the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia to General Grant.

STATEHOOD BILL PASSES 194 TO 150

Insurgents Gave Reasons for Opposition, As Did Those Who Supported Measure.

(By Associated Press.)

(By Associated Press.)

The House passed the statehood bill exactly according to schedule to-day. Republican opposition to the measure spent its entire force yesterday, and no effort was made to defeat the bill on its final passage, but thirty-three of the "insurgents" voting against the measure. The bill passed by the vote of 19 to 150. The debate which preceded this vote began at 11 o'clock and was practically featureless, so far as any hope was entertained of changing the measure in the slightest degree. The advocates of the measure placed in the record, through the medium of several speeches, the arguments upon which the joint statehood policy is founded. Likewise, the opponents of joining Arlzona and New Mexico, which embraced the entire amosition to the bill, produced their reasons for the record. Several of the "insurgenta" made plain the ground of the opposition.

The bill, as passed, provides that Oklahoma and Indian Territory shall constitute one State, under the name, "Oklahoma," and that Arlzona and New Mexico shall constitute one State, under the name "Arlzona."

Should the terms of admission be ratsocked.

sale of intoxicating liquor ans and plural marriages, are many other stipula-verning schools, courts and Those absent were Bell (Louislana). Byrd (Mississippi), Cockrain (New York). Hearst (New York), Hill (Mississippi), Little (Arkansas), McDermott (New Jersey), Patterson (Tennessee), Southall (Virginia), Sullivan (New York), Van Duzer (Nevada) and Zenor (Indiana). Among those who spoke to-day were Messrs, Webb (North Carolina) and Joon (Tennessee), both against the bill. The resignation of Claude A. Swanson, recently elected Governor of Virginia, was presented to the House.

The House adjourned until to-morrow.

MORE DEBATE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Benator Money Thinks This Country Would Be Better Off Without Any Sea Islands, tries by participating in the Algedras conference and that this country was not sufficiently concerned with the conduct of affairs in Santo Domingo to justify our course in that island. He also took the position that the President had transcended his authority there.

Mr. Money contended that the President made one explanation and his friends another of our attitude towards Santo Domingo.

Mr. Money declared that he felt no concern about Santo Domingo. "As a Senator of the United States I don't care a continental about it," he said emphatically, Mr. Money agreed with Mr. Lodge that the annexation of Santo Domingo was undesirable and he declared that "if to-day the United States would relieve herself of every island of the sea the country would be immensurably stronger." He added that if we continued our policy of taking in inferior people, the nation must sink of its own weight unless we changed our form of government. less we changed our form of govern-

Mr. Hepburn followed Mr. Money, advocating the annexation of Santo Domin-go, saying that the present population would soon become Americanized under go, saying that the present population would soon become Americanized under the rule of the United States, Mr. Tillman suggested that as the President of Santo Domingo is at present within our Islands, we should proceed to negotiate with him and thus very easily add to our colored population, if "gluttonous for more of them."

Mr. Hepburn replied that if his ideas should prevail, the colored people of the island would be supplanted by whites."

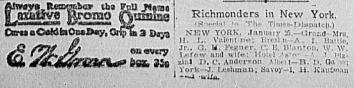

"I wish," replied the South Carolina Senator, "that he Senator would be more consistent with reference to the colored consistent with reference to the colored consistent with reference to the colored race and that he would not be so kind e near us and so cruel to thos

The Senate adjourned until to-morrow,

SENATE PASSES PILL FOR FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., January 25.—
The Senate to-day passed bills authoriz-

"Berry's for Clothes."

Three points of interest every man who is interested in correct dress—the Style, the

We're not going to tell you here about the high standard of Berry Coats-just talking prices, now.

$15 Overcoats at $ 9.75. $20 Overcoats at $12.75. $80 Overcoats at $17.75. $40 Overcoats at $22.75. Suits, same way.

Underwear-balbriggan, silkene, wool, plush and silk-big savings all along the line. Neckwear and shirts are selling rapidly at the new severely clipped prices.

ing the erection of a public building at Fayetteville, N. C.; authorizing a public building at Anderson, S. C., at a cost of 75,000; granting lands to the Missionary Baptist Church, of Rock Link, Fla., for cemetery purposes.

WOULD INVESTIGATE TREATMENT OF ALIENS

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 25.— Senator Tillman introduced a resolution to-day directing the Committee on Im-migration to investigate charges of uning in the United States, by officers of the liminigration service. The resolution recited that it had been charged that the Chinese boycott of American goods could be traced to the treatment of Chinese coming to the United States, and that Wu Ting Fang, the former Chinese minister to the country, was a leader in the boycott movement.

When the resolution was offered a number of visiting Chinese under the escort of attaches of the Chinese legation were in the diplomatic gallery. They departed the moment a request for immediate consideration of the resolution was dealed.

"Berry's for Clothes."

to fit it's because you have not seen our measurements; four sizes-the tall, short, stout and medium.

Perhaps we over-estimate importance of having right, but if we do, it's simply another advantage for our customers. Reductions, same as men's.

SMALL BOYS' WEAR.

Suits and Overcoats that sold up to $7, at $3 50.

That sold up to $8 at $4.78. $5.75 instead of $9 and $10.

three times. Thirty-six of his staff officers fell by his side, six killed and thirty wounded, and sixteen horses were shot under him.

Captured Prentiss.

Going into the battle of Shiloh in command of his regiment, General Wheeler roar, brushed aside to guarded the immense 1,290 londed wagons, and burned and blew and ourseld and blew up three hundre which resulted in the capture of General in rear and from with the Federal cay Prentiss and over 2,000 men. Wheeler, alry, Slipping of at with the Federal cay

The Senate and the People

The letters of Lincoln Steffens, who is in Washington making a personal investigation into the various branches of our government, are growing more and more interesting. The letter for next Sunday deals with the United States Senate. Mr. Steffens, in a way that is peculiarly his own, points out just how the American people regard the Senate, and how the Senate regards the American people. What he writes along these lines will be found highly entertaining and informing as well.

fantry and artillery. Two weeks later he made another raid in the enemy's rear, capturing four large transports and four hundred prisoners on the Cumberland River, and also capturing and destroying a gunboat which pursued him General Braggi mendiately asked "his promotion as a just reward to distinguished ment," and the rank of majorseneral was conferred. He ably covered in September was promoted to colone of the Nineteenth Albama Infantry Regiment, and to brigadier-general of cavalry in July, 1852. In the cavalry service he won promition to the rank of majorseneral and corps command early in July, 1852. In the cavalry service he won promotion to the rank of majorseneral and corps command early in July, 1852. In the cavalry service he won promotion to the rank of majorseneral and corps command early in promoted lieutenant-general February 28, 1853, and for his services received the thanks of Congress.

From early in 1862, until the war closed, General Wheeler was almost constantly engaged in battle. He was wounded three times, Thirty-six of his start officers fell by his side, six killed and the transports and four his promoted lieutenant-general February 28, 1865, and for his services received the thanks of Congress.

From early in 1862, until the war closed, General Wheeler was almost constantly engaged in battle. He was wounded three times, Thirty-six of his start officers fell by his side, six killed and the promoted lieutenant-general February 28, 1865, and for his services received the three times, Thirty-six of his start officers fell by his side, six killed and the condition of the cond

Photograph of General Wheeler Taken at the Time He Held the Rank of Lieutenant General in the Canfederate Army.

of all survivors of the Confeder-

In Federal Service.

When the United States found it necessary to call a volunteer army into the leid for the war with Spain, General Vheeler was commissioned major-genral. In command of the cavalry division of the krmy under General Shafter he worst to Sanilago. Cuba and was in company of the command of the command of the command of the sanilago. Cuba and was in comment to Sanilago. Cuba and was in comment to sanilago. Cuba and was in comment to sanilago. he commanded the Department of the Lakes until September, when he was retired. He has published an "Account of the Kentucky Campalgn" (1862), "Cavalry Tactics" (1863), "Military History of Alabama," "History of the Santlago Campalgn" (1898), "History of Cuba, 1496-1899" (1899), "History of the Effect Upon Civilization of the Wars of the Nineteenth Century," and monographs on the lives of Admiral Dewey, William McKinley, "Stonewall" Jackson and commanded the Department of the McKinley, "Stonew Theodore Roosevelt. "Stonewall"

Hero of Santiago Bay.

Hero of Santiago Bay.

Perhaps no man in the field service during the Spanish-American war gained a greater reputation for his bravery, judgment and military ability than did General Wheeler. His gallantry and cool, clear judgment during the most critical period at the battle of Santiago did as much as any other power in saving the day for the American army. All during the campaign General Wheeler was a conspicuous figure around the pattleground, and whether climbing up a tree to make observations, examining the firing lines, or encouraging the American soldiers to stand up to the enemy, General Wheeler's influence was felt everywhere. He made a brilliant record to add to his old laurels, and acquitted himself like a true soldier throughout the war. He was a friend of the private soldier during the campaign and did all he could to encourage and help him. There was perhaps no more popular man in the South than General Joe Wheeler.

Known As Fighting Joe.

Known As Fighting Joe.

General Joseph H. Wheeler, familiarly known to the country as "Fighting Joe." was a unique character and one of the most active men of his years in the country. He was one of the bravost men who followed the Confederate flag during the Civil War and one of the first to go to work to help the South to retrieve lits fortunes after the surrender at Appomattox. He has been as loyal to the Stars and Stripes ever since as he was to the other flag while the war lasted.

General Wheeler was one of the Confederacy's most darling cavalry leaders, and it is one of the queer things brought Known As Fighting Joe.

CHEAP, EFFECTIVE, PALATABLE.

The Analysis shows that the richness of Apenta Water in natural saline aperients renders it the safest and most remedial laxative and purgative. READ THE LABEL.

A WINEGLASSFUL A DOSE

ALSO SPARKLING APENTA, IN SPLITS ONLY.

NATURAL APENTA CARBONATED, A Refreshing and Pleasant Aperient for Morning Use.

DRINK WHILE EFFERVESCENT.

Sole Exporters: THE APOLLINARIS CO., Ld., London:

about by time that he should have been appointed a major-general of United States volunteers on the same day that a like honor was conferred upon General James H. Wilson, against whom he fought more than once during the Civil War.

Brilliant Confederate Career.
Little did he think when he entered the Confederate service of the brilliant Lowe ran for Congress in 1882 from the Brilliant Confederate Career.

Little did he think when he entered the Confederate service of the brilliant carer before him; how the bars of the lieutenant were to be exchanged for the stars of the colonel, and they to give place to the stars and wreath of a brigadler, and the climax to be reached, when, in 1864, he was made lieutenant-general, and became the senior cavalry general of the Confederate armies. On September 4, 1861, the young officer was appointed colonel of the Ninetenth Alabama Infantry, and at Shiloh commanded a brigade, and was especially distinguished. During the battle he had two hoves shot under him. It was his brigade that pressed most warmly on Prentis's division, and to which Prentiss surrendered. His military record was one of the brightest Many incidents illustrating his wonderful skill as a commander might be cited but a single one will be sufficient to escapina his great merit as a cavalry chieftain.

erals with his cavality. On the ISIA Wheeler, supported by Cheatham, succeeded in keeping the head of the Pederal column at a convenient distance.

"On the 20th the Browsh Was crossed, and the Infantry rested, but Weeler was kept busy. On the 22th hwas ordered to recross the Edward busy. On the 22th hwas ordered to recross the Edward busy of the 22th hwas ordered to recross the Edward busy. On the 22th hwas ordered to recross the Edward busy of the San the Infantry rested, but Weeler was kept busy. On the 22th hwas ordered to recross the Edward busy of the New Willard, what direction the 22th hwas ordered to recross the Edward busy of the New Willard, and the last two or the supply train near Cassville, he teams, 30e equipped horses and mules, and 12 prisoners, having burned more wagons than he brought away.

"In the fight near the New Hope Church on the 27th, Wheeler with two brigades met the Federal infantry column and drove back the leading brigado, taking about forty prisoners."

This brief enumeration, taken from Johnston's narrative, of the work done by General Wheeler in the month of May, 1864, illustrates the arduous duties of the genius possessed by Wheeler for using most effectively the cavalry arm of the sanddle, and that his dutes of the sanddle, and that his dutes of the sanddle, and that his dutes of the enemy, but to annoy his tribus and connections and to cover the withdrawal of Johnston's infantry. It is the ordinary perils of infantry if the thought that, notwith and the theory of the work work of the Civil War, which he was evidently preparing, showing the number of troops from forfantry life were voided, and that the per cent. The control of the control

SENT CHALLENGE TO FIGHT DUEL TRYING TO AGREE

Lowe ran for Congress in 1882 from the same Alabama district. General Wheeler was elected, but Mr. Lowe contested the election and succee... in having him unseated.

"Just afterwards," said General Hunton, "a distinguished Confederate officer of South Carolina called on me at my law offices in Washington and asked me law offices in Washington and asked me if Warrenton, where I lived, was a good place for a duel. I said that it was not; that too many quels had been fought there already, and that I would advise some other place. He then asked me to suggest a suitable place, and I told him that there was a beautiful forest about two miles from Quantico, which was, in my opinion, an ideal place. The location was secluded and a dozen duels could be fought there and no one would be the wiser, unless the principals or their friends talked."

He then asked me if there would not be wiser, unless the principals or their friends talked."

He then asked me if there would not be trouble and arrests if the affair became public. I said, not if the fight is fair and there is reason for it. General Payns and I will see to that.

The officer, whose name I will not give, thanked me and said he would give me the names of the principals later. Some days afterwards he came to me and said that General Wheeler had written a challenge to Mr. William M. Lowe, who had unseated him in Congress, but that Mr. Lowe was very fill in Baltimore, and General Wheeler had determined not to send the challenge until Mr. Lowe had recovered, as he knew that he would accept and appear upon the field of honor, if he had to be carried on a stretcher.

The challenge was ready, and Quantick would have been the place of meeting but Mr. Lowe died within a few weeks and so the affair never became public.

General Wheeler succeeded to Mr. Lowe's seat in the House of Representatives.

HOPED TO MEET END ON BATTLEFIELD

General Wheeler Told Virginian in Washington That Such a Death Was Noble.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

IN PACKERS' CASE

General Wheeler Would Have Fought His Successful Opponent.

General Eppa Hunton, distinguished not solly as a soldier, but as a statesman as well, spoke 'warmly in praise of General Joseph Wheeler, for whom he had the nighest esteem.

General Hunton did not serve with General Hunton did not serve with General Hunton did not serve with General Wheeler during the Civil War, nor were his terms in Congress first as member of the House of Representatives and later as senator contemporareous with the dashing cavelry leader, but his relations with him were warm and cordial.

"I consider General Wheeler a gallant"

I consider General Wheeler a gallant oppositely as the case in the case passed between District samples of the House of Representatives and later as senator contemporareous with the dashing cavelry leader, but his relations with him were warm and cordial.

If TRAVELING IN JAPAN or any civilized country, you can procure Laxative Brome Quinne from druggists. All nations were also the packers case were still tryings, when the packers case were still tryings, were the packers case were still tryings, were in, McColl; Preton Rion, Winnsboro. · Postmasters Appointed.

North Carolina-Reepsville, Lincoln county, Minnie A. Reep, vice W. C. Kiscr, SETON CONVICTED OF LARCENY OF $6,800

LARCENY OF $6,800

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, January 25.—C. Augustus Seton, who has been on trial before Recorder Goff, charged with the larceny of $5,800 from the Houston, Galveston and Interurban Railroad Company, of Texas, in floating about $5,000,000 worth of bonds, was convicted late to-day and remanded to jail to await sentence. Seton declared on the stand to-day that if he would have been worth $150,000, outside of the two and a half percent, that he would have been entitled to in the matter of construction expenses for the contemplated improvement.

ROCKEFELLER WILL RESPECT THE COURTS

(By Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, OHIO, January 25—
Frank Rockefeller gave out a statement to-day in which he denied that he had told the deputy sherff who served him with a subpoena to appear as a witness in connection with the action of the State of Missouri against the Standard Oil Company, that he would refuse to testify, Mr. Rockefeller said:

"I have made no statement that I would refuse to respond to a subpoena in this case. As a lew-abiding citzen, I have always and always expect to respond to any process of the courts."

Richmonders in New York.

ng nominations:
Luke E. Wright, Tennessee, ambassador to Japan.
Postmasters—
Georgia: Lena Brimberry, Camilla: Wille A. Sheats, Monroe; John T. Stilwell, war, was a severe test of the mettle of officers and men, and it is to be noted as a premonition of Wheeler's future carreer, that at the close of the first day, he was in command at the front of the greater part of his division, under the general orders of the gallant Withers. Of work on the second day, amid disorganization, a glimpse is given in the report of General Chalmers: Colonel Wheeler, of the Nineteenth Alabama, was with a small remnant of his regiment, fighting with the Mississipplans on foot himself, and bearing the colors of his command," in the last charge against the enemy.

Selection of the mettle of officers and ratificade for many miles, captured Shelbyville and Columbia, and then, closely followed by a Federal force of 7,500, reached the Tennessee at Mussel Shoals. To gain time to cross, he led in person a flerce charge upon the enemy, and, successful in this, was the last man to cross the river, under the general orders of the Federal advance.

An Unusual Honor.

In conveying his thanks for this brilliant service, General Bragg authorized Wheeler to designate officers for promoting the proportion of the first day, he led in person a flerce charge upon the enemy, and, successful in this, was the last man to cross the river, under the general orders of the Federal advance.

An Unusual Honor.

In conveying his thanks for this brilliant service, General Bragg authorized Wheeler to designate officers for promoting the proportion of the first day, he led in person a flerce charge upon the enemy, and, successful in this, was the led in person a flerce charge upon the enemy, and successful in this, was the led in person a flerce charge upon the enemy, and successful in this, was the led in person a flerce charge upon the enemy, and, successful in this, was the led in person a flerce charge upon the enemy, and, successful in this, was the led in person a flerce charge upon the enemy, and successful in this, was the led in person a flerce charge upon the enemy, and successful in this, was the led in p (From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., January 25—
Postmasters appointed:
Virginia—Mira Fork, Floyd county,
William E. Weeks, vice W. A. Hyllton, general orders of the gallant Withers. Of work on the second day, amid disorganization, a glimpe is given in the report of General Chalmers: Colonel Wheeler, of the Nineteenth Alabama, was with a small remnant of his regiment, fighting with the Mississippians on foor himself, and hearing the colors of his command," in the last charge against the enemy;

Subsequently General Wheeler commanded the rear guard in the retreat to Corinth, during the siege of which he was distinguished in a fight on the Monterey read, in command of two brigades of Withers's division. After guarding the rear in the retreat to Tupleo, he was sent on a raid in west Tennessee, in command of a cavalry brigade, as preliminary to the advance into Kentucky. His battles during Bragg's Kentucky campalgri, his resistance to Buell's advance upon Munfordville, which enabled Bragg to capture the fort and gazirison, with over 4,000 prisoners; his skillful fighting and gallant charges at Perryville, driving the enemy and capturing a battery, won for him at once an enduring reputation as a cavalry leader. On July 13th Bragg appointed the young colonel chief of cavalry of the Army of Mississippl, with authority to give orders in the name of the commanding general, and the duty of covering the rear of the army and holding the enemy in check. During the retreat he founds in the enemy in check to grant stream of the commanding general, and the duty of covering the rear of the army and holding the enemy in check. During the retreat he founds of the command of the cavalry of the Army of Mississippl, with authority to give orders in the name of the commanding general, and the duty of covering the rear of the army and holding the enemy in check. During the retreated to Grant's pursuit. During 185t, through-holms at the operations of J. E. Johnston and Hood, the performed the duties of a lieutestative of the command of the cavalry with General Storeman. McCook and carried and the operations of the command of the cavalry of the Army of Mississippl, with authori

"Wheeler's Cavairy."

After this "Wheeler's Cavairy" were laousehold words, and "Little Joe" Wheeler laousehold words, and "Little Joe" Wheeler were as his men affectionately called him, was the pride of the central South. At Murfreesboro a brigadier-general in division command of all the Confederate cavairy brigades, he made a raid around the Federal army, and, in the flerce attack upon Rosecrans's left, led his men the only avenue of escape for Hardee's in a resistless charge over cavairy in a first step. As has been written by Presitack upon Rosecrans's lett, ted als from the only avenue of written by Presi-

Bears the Strate History's Boy, Bignature Chart Hillichias